JOIN AVODAH'S JEWISH SERVICE CORPS

Corps Members, ages 21-26, spend a service year working at a local non-profit while living and learning in pluralistic Jewish community. They receive a monthly living stipend, furnished housing, health insurance, a travel allowance, an exit stipend, and access to our Economic Access Fund throughout their year of professional development in the justice field.

AS A CORPS MEMBER, YOU'LL:

Create lasting, pluralistic Jewish community. Home-cooked meals, late night conversations, and holiday celebrations make communal living memorable and meaningful.

Launch your career in social justice. Gain hands-on experience by serving on the ground at one of our placement organizations tackling crucial justice issues such as the criminal legal system, immigration, climate justice, education, and food insecurity.

Dive into deep learning. Through innovative programming, you'll explore how to live out your justice values, the role of community in creating a more just world, and what role your Jewish identity plays in your life and work.

Join our active alumni network for life. Our community of over 1,800 Jewish justice professionals and activists are there to help with everything from apartment hunts to job references to Shabbat dinner invites.

"Avodah for me has been a transformative experience...I knew I wanted to do social justice work but I had no idea where to begin in terms of finding meaningful work and a community to support me in it. Avodah has set me on a path for a career rooted to fighting for social justice, with a community to ground myself in along the way."
